Top 5 Desserts for Valentine's Day

Valentine's Day is just around the corner and what better way to celebrate with your significant other than by eating nothing but desserts. Can't decide what to make or don't know what to prepare? Here are a few options we have for you. Just click on the links and you'll have the recipe so you won't have to look them up!

1. Chocolate Fondant

Gordon Ramsey's recipe for his chocolate fondant is packed with so much chocolate-y goodness even the famous chef admits that this is his favourite recipe. This dessert is one of the many that calls for a bit of alcohol and who can say no to that? Chocoholics, make sure your S.O. makes this one for you.

2. Merlot—Poached Pears with Vanilla and Cinnamon

Calling all wine lovers! How does whole poached pears doused in red wine sauce accompanied by fragrant cinnamon and vanilla sound? Is that licking all your boxes? Then this is the one for you. If this fancy dessert doesn't impress your partner then I don't know what will.

3. Red Velvet Cheesecake

Red, red, red. Around this time of year that is the colour you see the most. Well, you will definitely see that in this amazing cheesecake recipe from Jamie Oliver. Light red velvet sponge sandwiched together with filling and topped with yummy sweet cream cheese frosting. We'll take 2 please!

4. Strawberries in Cointreau

Can't be bothered making a big deal but want to make it look like you put in lots of work and thought into a dessert? Well, try this healthy (minus the alcohol and cream of course) 4 ingredient pudding. This delicious treat can also be had without Cointreau and it will still be as tasty!

5. Chocolate Strawberries

And of course there is always the easy and still popular option: chocolate covered strawberries. This 2 ingredient recipe can be a life saver around Valentine's Day. You can always substitute plain chocolate with dark chocolate (remember it's good for you!) or white chocolate. Either way is delicious!
